

Privacy Policy and Personal Data Processing

By registering, each user automatically gives their explicit consent to RYCHLOSERVIS, a.s., which operates the PV Logic website and mobile application (www.pvlogic.com) (hereinafter referred to as the "Operator"), as the personal data controller, to process their personal data (specifically: email addresses, names) for the purpose of recording activity and sending informational and marketing materials. This consent is given by the user to the Operator for the entire duration of their interest in receiving the materials.

As part of the procedure, the user confirms that they have been informed by the Operator of their rights under the Data Protection Act.

Collection and Use of Personal Data

All user information is stored in accordance with the Data Protection Act No. 101/2000 Coll. Since seriousness is our fundamental and highest priority, we are fully aware of our responsibilities in managing and protecting these sensitive data.

The Operator respects the privacy of individuals who visit its website and mobile application. We only collect personally identifiable information (such as name or email) that you voluntarily provide to us. The Operator will use this information only for the purposes stated when obtaining the data. We will use the provided information to contact you, understand your needs, and subsequently improve our services.

The Operator will not sell or rent your personal information to any third party. The Operator may use the information in aggregate form for statistical analyses of website and mobile application traffic. No personally identifiable information can be obtained from this data processing.

Security of Personal Data

The data controller is RYCHLOSERVIS, a.s. This company keeps your personal data secure and protects it from unauthorized persons, misuse, or disclosure. Your data is safely stored on computer servers in a controlled and protected environment, secured by state-of-the-art hardware and software data protection systems.

The Operator reserves the right to update or change this Privacy Policy as needed. Any changes will be promptly announced on this page.

Right to Deletion from the Database

The provider of their personal data has the right to have their personal data deleted from the database. You can delete your account, including all collected data, directly from the mobile application. The provider can also request account deletion via email. This can be done by sending an email from the address used during registration to info@rsenergy.cz. The Operator hereby commits to deleting all data from the database no later than 10 business days after receiving the request via email.
